RE: Food Service Provider 2010 Arctic Winter Games - Richard Middleton

I was the executive assistant to the General Manager for the 2010 Arctic Winter Games and in that capacity worked with our Food Services chairing our dealings with our food provider.

Under the direction of Richard Middleton, food services provided for the participants at the 2010 Arctic Winter Games held in Grande Prairie were of excellent quality. Menus met the specified needs of the participants and there was ample choice of appetizing fresh food.

Our Host Society was especially pleased with Mr. Middleton's willingness to work with our organization when presented with the challenges this type of event can bring, including offering fresh, hot food over an entire day and dealing with box lunches/off-site food.

Upon my visits to the food services venue I was impressed with Mr. Middleton's management skills in arranging for his staff to work closely with our volunteers and staff to ensure a continuous smooth operation of food services over the week of the Games.

Sincerely,

Doris Landry
